

Federal ADC-U Bill Marked For O. K. In Lansing

LANSING (AP)—Having scored a victory in its first showdown vote, the proposal to furnish aid to children of unemployed Michigan parents today awaited probable passage by the Senate.

Strong bi-partisan support helped push the federal ADC-U bill through the House Tuesday, two days ahead of schedule.

Debate over amendments — including a controversial "birth control" proposal—and political philosophy raged around the measure for nearly an hour. But it won by a decisive 89-14 margin.

Test Of Romney Influence

The bill, buried three times in Republican-controlled committees in the past two years, was introduced this year as part of Gov. George Romney's legislative program. It was viewed as an early test of his influence in the legislature.

The proposal has been amended four times. It may face more revision in the Senate. But Republican leaders there have marked it down on their list of prime legislation.

"It's as good as passed," said one Republican leader.

The bill would qualify children of unemployed parents to receive ADC assistance under a plan that splits costs between the state and the federal government, providing relief for county welfare departments.

The bill drew 49 Republican and 40 Democratic votes on passage, with 14 Republicans opposing it and four lawmakers abstaining.

"Family Planning" Rejected

Rep. Carroll Newton, R-Delton, who opposed the bill, touched off the most intense debate with what Democrats termed a "birth control" amendment.

Newton proposed the bill be amended to give county welfare departments and social welfare agencies the right to dispense information on "family planning" to any welfare clients requesting it.

"This would correct many of the evils of the past," Newton told House members.

Democrats charged Newton was trying to destroy the ADC-U bill in its entirety by introducing a controversial amendment.

Newton's amendment lost 71-30. In the form in which it went to the Senate, the ADC-U bill would apply to children under 18 who live with jobless parents, not in foster or relatives' homes.

It would include persons who have been on welfare since 1958 and who have not worked for more than 32 hours in any consecutive two weeks. Persons in jobs not qualifying them for state unemployment compensation would not be eligible.

Railroads Locked In Critical Battle Over 65,000 Jobs

CHICAGO (AP)—The nation's railroads and the unions representing train crew members are locked in a critical battle. The outcome will affect the jobs of perhaps 65,000 men.

What is the fight all about? The rail lines demand revisions to abolish what they call featherbedding. This is a practice of forced work which they claim costs them $600 million a year.

J. E. Wolfe, chairman of the National Railway Labor Conference, says the railroads are ready to conclude an agreement within the framework of recommendations made a year ago by a presidential railroad commission.

H. E. Gilbert, president of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Firemen and Engineers, has termed the commission report "harsh, inhumane and retrogressive." The brotherhoods claim their proposals to modernize the wage and rules structure have been ignored.

Seniority Recognized

Here are the commission's six main recommendations and the views of each side:

1. No new firemen would be hired for diesel locomotives in freight or yard service. The 27,000 firemen with at least 10 years seniority would continue working until eliminated by natural attrition—death, retirement, etc.

The remaining 13,000 firemen with less than 10 years seniority would be dismissed with 3 to 12 months notice. They would receive dismissal pay ranging up to 36 months at 60 per cent of past pay. Displaced firemen would get priority in rehiring and two years of retraining.

Management contends: "You can't run a modern railroad on conditions set up years ago."

The unions call the firemen a diesel helper and say he's needed for greater safety on trains. Gilbert says 190 train employees were killed in one recent year.

"The name firemen is outmoded because he doesn't shovel coal," a union spokesman says. "But his presence is needed as supervisor of power; he supervises the diesel equipment and does engineering work while the train is en route."

2. An overhaul of the wage structure, with pay geared to a combination of time and mileage. This is calculated to result in pay raises for 75 per cent of the workers while others could make up for pay cuts, in part, by putting in more hours and riding more miles.

Relief Of Past

Management holds the present pay structure to be a relic of a slow-moving era when a 100-mile trip was regarded as the equivalent of a full day's work.

The unions challenge the commission finding and contend wages actually would be cut and hours would be lengthened by the proposed changes. "It's hardly a pay increase," a union official said. "It would amount to a cut in pay as much as 80 per cent for locomotive engineers."

3. Railroads should have unlimited right to introduce new equipment and modernize operations. Workers who lost jobs as a result would receive protection at railroad expense.

Wolfe commented "very generous employee protection is recommended."

"The brotherhoods are not against technological change," a union spokesman asserts. "We just want protection for our men."

4. Road service workers should do limited switching and terminal chores for their trains. Road crews should do switching and station work where yard crews are not on duty. Yard crews should be abolished in places where work volume is low.

Management claims "flagrant featherbedding" has persisted in these areas:

The unions point out road service workers get the mileage basis, which they say is incentive pay, while yard service workers are paid on an hourly basis.

5. Lengths of runs should be adjusted to modern operating capabilities. Such a change would knock out certain requirements for crew changes. New rules would provide for binding settlement of disputes over interdivisional service and would allow moving expenses and compensation for relocated workers.

Three Crews On Run

The railroads offered as an example of current practices: a 7-hour run from Minneapolis to Chicago—400 miles—requires three engine crews.

"To submit to binding arbitration a worker's seniority, job assignment, and working conditions subverts the mission of the labor movement, as we know it," says Gilbert. Seniority would be wiped out on divisions, unions claim, and workers and their families would be uprooted.

6. Changes in sizes of train crews should be arbitrated after surveys and negotiations. Employees let out in such cases would receive unemployment compensation financed by the train lines.

"In many cases," a management spokesman says, "we have too many trainmen and yard brakemen."

"The railroad industry is still one of the most hazardous to life and limb in our nation," says Gilbert. In 1960, he said, 190 employees were killed and 13,245 injured.

"It is not a good record, but it could be worse, a lot worse," Gilbert submits. "If the employees are denied their present contractual voice in the determination of crew size and work assignments."

To the binding arbitration proposals—a sore point to the unions—a spokesman says: "You can submit working conditions to binding arbitration sometimes. But you don't submit the life and death of jobs."

Sprig Of Mimosa On Stalin's Grave

MOSCOW (AP)—Somebody tossed a tiny sprig of mimosa on Stalin's grave near the Kremlin wall late Tuesday. That was the only commemoration in Moscow of the 10th anniversary of the dictator's death.

There were flowers on the grave of his second wife, Nadesha, in the Novodevichy monastery. There almost always are flowers there, usually from Stalin's daughter Svetlana, who still lives next door to the Kremlin. There frequently are flowers on Stalin's grave, possibly from the daughter also.

Kennedy Wants Tax Cutting Linked Up With Revisions

Senate Passes Bills To Kill Bounty System

LANSING (AP)—Five appropriations bills totaling some $237.2 million were introduced Tuesday in the Senate.

The money measures — $122.6 million for education, $80.9 million for mental health, $17.8 million for corrections, $14.8 million for public health and $1.0 million for immediate planning — were sent to the appropriations committee.

Committee chairman Sen. Frank Biddle, R-St. Clair, said the corrections and public health bills were nearly in final form, but the mental health and education measures were not.

His committee has been conducting hearings on various requests for funds for the 1963-64 fiscal year since January.

The $1.0 million for immediate planning was requested by Gov. George Romney to lay the groundwork for a long-range proposed $60.6 million building program.

The governor also requested some $500,000 for the immediate use of community and junior colleges, but the appropriations bill did not contain that provision.

Biddle said the request was dropped off because the committee felt the colleges would not be able to take immediate advantage of the funds for building projects.

The Senate also passed and sent to the House two bills which would kill the bounty system on bobcats, red foxes, coyotes and wolves.

Passage came over the objections of two Upper Peninsula senators—Republican Kent Lundgren of Menominee and Philip Rahoi of Iron Mountain.

Rahoi contended the state would not, in the end, save the estimated $207,000 paid in bounties yearly. He said few people supported the legislation.

Lundgren said Wisconsin recently had passed—then quickly repealed—legislation doing away with bounties, because the game level dropped off when the predatory animal population grew.

No-Confidence Motion Rejected By British House

LONDON (AP)—Prime Minister Harold Macmillan's Conservative government easily killed a no-confidence motion on its defense policy Tuesday night. Then it won parliamentary approval of a plan to reorganize Britain's three armed services into a unified defense ministry.

The House of Commons rejected the Labor party's no-confidence motion along straight party lines, 333-237. The reorganization plan carried, 323-237.

Grand Ole Opry Artists Killed In Plane Crash

CAMDEN, Tenn. (AP)—The wreckage of a light plane with four Grand Ole Opry personalities aboard was found today about five miles west of the Tennessee River in west Tennessee.

Sheriff Loye Furr said there were no survivors. Aboard were singers Patsy Cline, Hawkshaw Hawkins and Cowboy Copas and the pilot, Randy Hughes who was Miss Cline's manager and a son-in-law of Copas.

The Grand Ole Opry is a radio program broadcast by WSM, Nashville, which has attracted and developed top country and Western musicians for more than 35 years.

The single-engine plane was returning the recording artists to Nashville after benefit performances at Kansas City, Kan. It stopped at Dyersburg, near Memphis, early Tuesday night to refuel. Hughes telephoned his wife in Nashville to say they would be home soon. The plane never arrived.

Another opry star, Billy Walker, said at Nashville he intended to return with Hughes but came by commercial plane because the Hughes plane would carry only four.

Floods Recede In Four States; 7 Persons Dead

By The Associated Press

Floods which have driven thousands of persons from their homes and caused widespread property damage and inconvenience to millions in four states appeared easing in some areas today.

However, the threat of further overflows remained in many sections of the flood-stricken regions of Ohio, West Virginia, Pennsylvania and Indiana. Cities in Kentucky along the surging Ohio River were possible danger spots.

The floodwaters from rivers and streams swollen by heavy rains and melting snow were blamed for at least seven deaths, including three in West Virginia and two each in Ohio and Indiana. Outside the major flood belt, one man drowned in a rain-swollen river in McMinnville, in central Tennessee.

Towns Isolated

Hundreds of roads throughout the four-state area were closed. Many towns were isolated. Schools and industrial plants were closed in some communities. Train and bus service was delayed and in some places halted.

National Guard troops, civil defense groups and Red Cross disaster units joined in aiding the flood victims.

The chief bright spot in the dreary flood picture was the tapering off of the heavy rains which have pounded the region for several days.

A tornado and severe windstorms swept across areas in Alabama and Georgia Tuesday. A twister which struck the Birmingham, Ala., area damaged about 85 buildings in nearby Bessemer and other suburban areas. Several persons were injured. Property damage was expected to run into the millions of dollars. Two persons were injured and several houses damaged in a violent wind storm in Cave Springs, Ga.

Campus Under Water

About 1,000 families were made temporarily homeless by the surge ing waters in West Virginia, Ohio and Pennsylvania. An estimated 500 persons have been forced to leave their homes in Indiana.

In Athens, Ohio, about 800 students were evacuated from four dormitories at Ohio University Tuesday night as the Hocking River overflowed lowlying areas of the campus. Several dozen families also were forced to leave their homes. Athens, a town of 16,470 in southeastern Ohio, was completely cut off from other communities, with all highways and the Baltimore & Ohio Railroad tracks inundated.

In Warren County, in southern Ohio, the number of evacuees totaled more than 400 families. In West Virginia, the Ohio River rose to flood stage from Wheeling southward into Kentucky. In Cincinnati the big river was expected to crest sometime Saturday at 57 feet, five feet above flood stage. It also appeared headed for crests above flood stage in Huntington, W. Va., Ashland, Ky., and Maysville, Ky., within the next three days.

Hunted Bidault Involves Britain

LONDON (AP)—The opposition Labor party and some British newspapers lashed the Conservative government and the security services today for letting former French Premier Georges Bidault slip in and out of England.

Bidault, hunted by France as chief of the anti-De Gaulle terrorist organization, appeared Monday on a taped television program on the British Broadcasting Corporation. The government said Tuesday he apparently had left Britain.

De Gaulle's officials, who tightly control the French government radio and television service, implied that Prime Minister Harold Macmillan's government should have kept the interview from being aired.

British wrath spared the virtually independent BBC and concentrated on the security services, already under heavy fire because three Soviet spies have turned up in government service in the past 19 months.

The Labor shadow cabinet called a special meeting tonight to draft a demand for an unequivocal statement by the government on its part in the affair.

The Laborites want to know exactly how Bidault slipped into Britain under the noses of security men, how he got away again, why detectives didn't track him down and why officials apparently paid no attention to persistent press reports last January that Bidault was in London.

The Labor move did not imply any criticism of the right of the BBC to televise the interview.

Most sections of the press solidly defended the BBC's right to present news as it thought fit, but the newspapers were asking the same questions the Labor shadow cabinet was asking.

Scotland Yard's special branch of political detectives were reported under orders to spread their search for a highly organized French Secret Army Organization cell operating from London.

Paris Bank Head Shot Dead In Car By Lone Gunman

PARIS (AP)—The president of a Paris bank was shot to death today as he sat in the back seat of his parked sedan.

Henri Lafond, 68, was cut down by six shots fired at point-blank range by a lone gunman who escaped, police said, and died in an ambulance taking him to a hospital.

Police said Lafond and his chauffeur had just pulled up in front of a bank in the fashionable Paris suburb of Neuilly when a gunman opened the door, pulled a pistol from his pocket and fired. The chauffeur was wounded slightly.

Police said they had no clue to the motive for the daring daylight slaying.

Congress Will Enact His Bill, President Says

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Kennedy said today he still wants tax reductions linked with tax revisions and it is his judgment that Congress will enact a bill embracing both.

Kennedy did not say whether he would, if necessary, accept a tax cut without what he calls tax reforms.

The first question at a presidential news conference was aimed at trying to clear up exactly what he would accept in tax legislation.

Kennedy has proposed that Congress lower taxes by $13.6 billion over three years and offset this by tax revisions which would bring in $3.5 billion—for a net cut of about $10 billion.

Then last week he said the important thing is to get a tax bill this year, and: "Whatever is necessary to get that bill, I would support."

Youth Plan Pushed

Some of his remarks to a symposium on economic growth sponsored by the American Bankers Association, were interpreted as meaning he would accept a $13.6 billion slash and, if need be, abandon his bid for offsetting changes in the revenue laws.

Asked whether that was a fair interpretation, Kennedy replied that he thought the best program was the one he had sent to Congress.

He said he felt Congress would enact this type of bill—one including the proposed revisions.

Kennedy opened the news conference with a volunteered statement plugging for congressional action on three legislative proposals.

May Accept Slash

He said he hopes the youth opportunities bill can be enacted before Congress takes its Easter recess.

He noted hearings have been completed in the House on legislation to help produce more doctors and dentists. The talents of young persons going into these professions are needed, he said, and he hopes the bill will be passed.

He urged prompt attention to his legislative recommendations in the field of mental health.

Soon after the question period began, the President was asked about the four U.S. aviators who lost their lives in the ill-fated Bay of Pigs Cuban invasion. Were they employees of the government or the CIA?

Kennedy did not directly answer the question. He said it was a voluntary flight, and that the men were serving their country. Many times over the past years, Kennedy said, Americans have served their nation but he added that it isn't helpful to U.S. interests to go into details.

Answer Is "No"

Kennedy was asked a three-part question, about the number of Russian military personnel in Cuba, but he obviously didn't want to make any comment on this. "No," he said. "My answer would be no to all of them."

To a further question, Kennedy said he had seen charges that the administration has held up information on the Soviet buildup in Cuba.

"In hindsight," he said, "perhaps we could have picked up this information a few days earlier—but not many days earlier."

The President added that, "I feel the intelligence services did a very good job."

After all, he said, the missile bases were detected and exposed. Kennedy was asked also about plans for continuing to deal with the Cuban problem, especially what he may discuss during his forthcoming visit to Costa Rica.

Refugees Are Problem

The President said the problem is people coming and leaving Cuba. The problem is one for other Latin-American countries, he said—each country for itself must keep track of these comings and goings, who the people are and what happens to them. Also, he said, there are the questions of trade, diplomatic representation and the West.

He would hope, he went on, that the other American republics would work with the United States in trying to isolate communism in Cuba.

Detroit's Mayor Protests Move To Drop IRS Center

DETROIT (AP)—Mayor Jerome P. Cavanagh fired off a telegram to Treasury Secretary Douglas Dillon Tuesday protesting the Internal Revenue Service decision eliminating a proposed data processing center for the Detroit area.

Cavanagh expressed "shock, concern and indignation" over the decision not to build the center in either Detroit or Port Huron. The mayor said, "I think the move is highly improper."

Port Huron and Detroit both had bid for the center. Port Huron offered to build office space for the center and give the structure to the government. A tax increase and bonding proposal were approved by St. Clair County voters to finance the project.

Port Huron's mayor, Raymond L. Mathieson, after meeting with backers of the project, said the special tax would not be collected. Other officials expressed hope the government would change its decision.

Michigan Democratic members of Congress joined in protesting the decision.

Sens. Patrick McNamara and Philip Hart and the state's eight Democratic House members said in a statement: "We do not intend to accept this decision as final."

The decision was announced by Dillon as part of a reorganization of the Internal Revenue Service. Michigan members of Congress said the action "is a breach of faith."

The group said they protested the reported reorganization "to the highest levels of the government."

"We have assurances the announced plan will not take effect without further exploration," the statement said.

"The Internal Revenue Service would eliminate the proposed Michigan service center simply by re-juggling Michigan into a five-state region."

"The service center for this new region already has been initiated in another state. By this action the IRS violates a firm commitment."

The statement said the IRS officially informed the Michigan members that Michigan had been selected as a service center location for the Michigan-Illinois-Wisconsin region.

The center would have cost $2 million to build and would have provided jobs for 800 to 1,200 persons with an annual payroll up to $7 million.

Indicted UAW Official Ousted

DETROIT (AP)—The United Auto Workers' Executive Board Tuesday night severed UAW Vice President Richard T. Gosser of Toledo from an $18,029-a-year salary.

The board placed Gosser on inactive status pending his appeal of a three-year prison sentence on a charge of tampering with federal income tax files.

Church Opposes Sunday Closing; Decision Friday

Opposition to Saturday-Sunday Closing Act No. 128 of the Public Acts of 1962 was voiced by Paul Penno, pastor of the Seventh Day Adventist Church of Escanaba to the local congregation. Pastor Penno listed six reasons why the church feels the Saturday-Sunday Closing Act is not beneficial or acceptable:

1. "It seeks to control by state enactment what the open market can adjust through fair play and free enterprise.
2. "It makes no provision for the person who chooses to keep no day or prefers to work every day for economic reasons.
3. "It will work a hardship on businesses that depend largely on tourist or weekend sales.
4. "It is discriminatory against certain stores, items, and people and preferential to others. It has the effect of discriminating against individuals who observe a day other than Saturday-Sunday as their Sabbath, and it seeks to impose by law a pattern of social and economic behavior that should be shaped not by government but by the free choices and the voluntary associations of the people themselves.
5. "It provides an exemption for Sabbatarians who are not asking for, not needing, nor indeed wanting any special privileges granted by preferential legislation.
6. "Effective enforcement will be impossible. Many honest citizens will be forced to become lawbreakers. What difficult choices merchants will have to make between breaking the law and alienating customers who ask to purchase items that are prohibited in Act 128.

"Stores would not be open if people did not want to shop on Sunday. Families shop together on Saturday and Sunday as a form of recreation as much as from necessity. For many families it is the only time they can shop together."

Pastor Penno suggested an alternative solution. "We believe that the answer is not in additional legislation. It is our belief that the solution to the social, health, recreation, and economic problems is found by the free choices and the voluntary associations of the people themselves, not by forcing people by law to close their businesses one day a week."

The Delta County Board of Supervisors will consider the Sunday Closing Act at its meeting in Escanaba on Friday. Escanaba merchants in informal discussion have indicated that most larger store managements favor a Sunday closing. They thought it would be helped by a closing law, which could exempt small stores, but conceded that drawing the line between classes of stores would present problems. Food markets are a sensitive area of response to Sunday competition.

Centennial Role Of Youth Grows

Enthusiastic response given Harold Cloutier and George Harvey at an assembly at Holy Name High School on Monday has prompted Centennial directors to expand the youth program to include a wide range of activities that, as Cloutier put it, "might overshadow our own."

The high school students assigned to handle the Centennial Teen-Age Ball, Walt Lewke, Sandi Makinen, and Steve Brown, of Escanaba Area High School, and Terry Jandis, Marilyn Sue Kobasic, and Sarah Pineau of Holy Name High School, will now have the additional responsibilities of serving as the executive committee. Mrs. Eleonore Sullivan, chairman, will be coordinator of teen-age activities.

Impromptu suggestions from the student body include a variety of races from stock cars to go-karts, bicycle to greased pigs, and contests that include swimming and diving, pole climbing, fishing, wood-chopping, pie-baking (for girls), and pie eating (for boys), and a tug-of-war, with the winners to compete in the adult finals. The youngsters discussed revival of such turn of the century entertainment as box socials and square dancing.

"With ideas from Escanaba Area High School students still to be received, it is apparent that with the younger generation is go," said Mrs. Sullivan.

Air Force Role Told By Mills

The role of the U. S. Air Force in the protection of the North American continent from air attack was described by Lt. Col. Howard E. Mills of the Air Force to the Rotary Club at its meeting at the House of Ludington on Tuesday.

Col. Mills, direction center chief at K. I. Sawyer Air Force Base, was introduced by W. J. Lavolette of the Rotary Club's program committee.

The responsibility in the protection of North America from attack from the north falls into four categories: Quick detection of the approaching aircraft; its interception; and its destruction. A detection network extends northward to the Arctic and along the east and west coasts. The system is not "fool proof" however, since low-flying craft could escape detection, Col. Mills said.

The U. S. government has a 410 million dollar installation at K. I. Sawyer, of which 225 million dollars is in aircraft.

There are 4,700 military persons on the base plus 300 civilians for a total military community with a population of 12,000, Col. Mills reported.

In response to a question, he said that personnel at the base like to visit and to shop in Escanaba.

Arthur W. Moberg, Rotary Club president, conducted the meeting.

Dairymen Meet On Milk Price Plans

The Upper Peninsula milk pricing problem was reported unchanged except for a return by Morning Glory to a base price of 29 cents a half gallon today, up a cent from the old price.

Upper Peninsula dairymen, concerned about survival in competition with Wisconsin dairy operators who have reduced wholesale prices in the U. P. market, met in Escanaba on Monday to plan an advertising campaign and meet again next Monday in Marquette.

Finds 4-H Club Work Rewarding

When the Escanaba Kiwanis Club feted some 90 4-H Club leaders at a luncheon earlier this week they paid tribute to the many persons throughout the county who have taken the time and effort to guide and teach the younger generation the qualities of good living, working together and the benefits of being a good citizen. The luncheon marked the opening of National 4-H Week.

In doing so, they might well have had in mind Mrs. Alfred Anderson of Soo Hill, who for the past 10 years has devoted her time to just such an end. Actually, Mrs. Anderson has participated in club work for 13 years, three years as a member and 10 as a leader of both boys and girls groups.

Work of the 4-H Club is nothing new to her, her daughter, Lucille was a club member for 10 years, and her son, Robert, belonged for three. For the past three years Lucille has also been a leader.

"I guess," said Mrs. Anderson, "that I first became interested in 4-H work when we moved out here in 1949. Both the children had joined the Soo Hill 4-H Club and I just followed suit. For the first three years I just assisted the leader, then I realized that the job was just too much for one person so I became a leader."

According to Mrs. Anderson the classes during the summer months average from 25 to 35 students and include baking, canning, gardening, photography and recreation. When the Anderson household is taken over during a meeting it becomes a regular beehive of activity.

"This may see hard to visualize, but all of these girls manage to get into my kitchen with their flour, eggs utensils and what-have-you, to do their baking. It usually winds up as a lawn party by the time its finished, but its lots of fun. Anytime you pass here in the summer and see 35 bicycles around the house you know there's a meeting going on," she quipped.

All of this however, has failed to move Mrs. Anderson. "There was a time when like everyone else I just didn't understand children. Now that I've spent so much time with them, helping them, I find myself more inclined to holler at the parents for not understanding the youngsters," she said.

Asked how she liked working with children in general, she said, "I like working with them,

Considine On WLST Radio

Bob Considine has worn many hats in his long and distinguished reporting career—that of sports writer, war correspondent, film scenarist, novelist and short story writer. He draws on this vast personal experience and diversified background every weekday evening at 6:50 on WLST and ABC Radio on his news commentary show, "On the Line with Bob Considine."

In 1930, after three years of solid writing experience at the Post, he went to the Washington Herald as Sports Editor. At the Herald it soon became apparent that Considine's talents were much broader than merely reporting the action on the tennis court or the baseball diamond. He was assigned as all-around man to cover drama, general assignments and write editorials. In addition, he won national acclaim with his daily "On the Line" sports column. Bob's outstanding reporting ability and resourcefulness caught the eye of William Randolph Hearst who brought him to the New York Mirror in 1936.

A year later, Considine switched to the International News Service to write a daily sports column and handle general assignments.

By the time World War II broke out, Bob Considine was a nationally known feature writer.

A prolific writer, Considine penned 18 books (either under his own name or for someone else). Among the most famous he includes: "Thirty Seconds Over Tokyo," "The Babe Ruth Story" and "The General Winwright Story."

Considine has interviewed many of the world leaders. In 1957—as a member of a three-man task force that included William Randolph Hearst, Jr. and Frank Conruff—he was granted an exclusive interview with Soviet Communist Party Leader Nikita Khrushchev in Moscow.

For professional excellence in the field of journalism Considine has received: the 1959 and 1961 Overseas Press Club Award for the best overseas reporting, the 1949 Sigma Delta Chi Award for distinguished service to journalism, and the 1946 George Holmes Award for outstanding reporting.

Where We've Gone

Eugene Peterson of Carney, a commercial forest manager and wood industry man, says that the Upper Peninsula is the last place left in America with cheap land. He's speaking primarily of commercial forest land, but the observation, he says, spills over onto building sites and other types of property.

This situation, if he has cased it correctly, can be regarded optimistically as an opportunity to lure forest investment. Or it can be regarded pessimistically as an evidence that the area is failing in forestry and that the scale of values reflects this.

The situation is not fixed yet and can still be shaped, but it seems trending into a situation which will seriously impair the Upper Peninsula's opportunity to promote commercial forestry and, with it, wood industries.

When the virgin forests had been cut the best soils were marked for farming and the rest were left for gleaming by loggers or abandonment and return to government ownership. This reversion of forest land to state ownership was hastened by tax increases. Original forest ownership, for the most part, looked upon the standing timber as the chief value, if not the sole value, in forest lands.

One third of Michigan was tax delinquent in the early 1930s when the land tax crisis reached its climax. In the reorganization of forest land values since then, the land itself has acquired increased value, as the source of timber wealth. This is wholesome and good. But meanwhile so much land had been abandoned because it couldn't earn the high taxes placed upon it by government, that today, by reversion and government purchase, 40 per cent of Upper Peninsula forest land is in state and federal ownership.

A new element has entered forest land valuation. It is recreational value. A group of hunters may pay 5 times what a land is worth as a producer of wood. This would seem to solve the problem, except that recreational ownership usually has no interest in commercial forestry and so a huge potential of material supply for local industry is diminished, if not lost.

Undeveloped land in the U.P. is worth only a fraction of what land is worth in the South, the Southwest, or the West. Forest land in the South is very high priced compared with that in the U.P. and great sums are spent additionally in creating tree plantations on it. The investment is so high that some tree growth cannot be used for pulping—only the thinnings from an early cut and the wastes from sawmills, etc., are used for pulping. A new type of forest and forest industry have been created, with high value forests and high value products grown in short growth cycles.

U.P. forestry is not progressive. If it were, forest land prices—for forestry purposes—would be rising here.

The federal and state governments have taken stewardship of 40 pct. of U.P. forest land. They have done a good job of forest rehabilitation, a work not yet completed. But they have not been able to solve the government forests' wood marketing problem and this is a vital problem of stewardship, otherwise the potential of the forest to serve the public is not realized. The federal foresters might truly say that the U.P. forest lands are in government ownership because they failed in private enterprise, but the problem of fully effective stewardship remains. There is not a dynamic utilization of the area's greatest resource, the forest.

Unable to pay ad valorem taxes, commercial forest land owners have been putting their lands under the shelter of the Pearson Act, offering tax relief for growing timber. Marathon Division of American Can Co. found that in 30 years of experience its forest lands near Amasa pay 16 cents an acre under the Pearson Act, 7 cents in yearly taxes and an average of 9 cents a year in severance taxes. The state pays 15 cents an acre on its land in lieu of taxes. Federal forests pay a percentage of their income from wood sales.

If the U.P. is to keep private commercial forestry it must have a firm tax system that permits profitable growth of timber. If it does not have private commercial forestry, it will lose a strong tie to forest industries like paper making.

The Doctor Says:

Revaccination Beats Smallpox

By Dr. Wayne G. Brandstadt, M.D.

Would you deliberately expose yourself to smallpox?

Even if you have been successfully vaccinated, this would be a foolish thing to do unless you had had a recent successful revaccination.

Although I have seen very few cases of this disease, I cannot think of a worse one.

It kills one of every three to five victims in an epidemic. Many of those who survive are blinded by corneal scars and all carry unsightly pock marks on their faces.

Ten Years Ago

John D. Murray, 67, lifelong resident of Escanaba and a veteran brakeman and conductor for the C&NW Ry., died today at his home at 410 S. 9th St.

Joseph Stalin, head of the Soviet Union and rated one of the most powerful men in history, died last night following a four day illness.

Earnings from 100 shares of Petoskey Cement stock, for the next two years, will be used to maintain and build up the history department of the Gladstone School and Public Library. The funds are a bequest from the estate of the late Lawrence Nebel.

Twenty Years Ago
Escanaba public schools have trained 176 people for jobs in war production plants since last July. Twenty-nine of these people were women.

Miss Mary E. Eaton, U. S. Civil Service representative, will be in Escanaba the first of the week to interview and appoint qualified persons for many clerical positions in Washington, D. C.

New half million volt x-ray equipment was recently installed in St. Francis hospital.

Thirty Years Ago
Abraham Stein won the local declamation contest and the right to represent Escanaba High School in the sub-district declamatory contest here in April.

Mrs. A. O. Syverson of Escanaba placed 12th in the single event and was tied for sixth in the doubles in the Chicago-American's National Bowling Assn. meeting in Chicago last weekend.

The Fred Engdahl home at 815 First Ave. S. suffered extensive damage from fire last night. Starting in a clothes closet, it spread to other parts of the house and while the fire was not so extensive the damage from water and smoke ruined much of the interior.

No amount of money can stop a person from wishing he was as rich as somebody else.

The railroad and the double are two of the most dangerous crossings.

In some department stores women park in the store parking area and in the aisles.

Although you can get out of the United States and into some foreign countries without such a record, the U. S. Public Health Service won't let you back in without it.

Vaccination is a small price to pay for protection against smallpox. If an outbreak got started in this country our doctors would be swamped and a temporary shortage of vaccine would almost surely develop. Add to this the inconvenience of standing in a long line of other frightened citizens waiting for your turn to be vaccinated.

All this can be prevented if each of us will keep up his immunity at regular intervals. In some states you have to renew your driver's license every three years. Why not make it a point to renew your vaccination at the same time.

By PETER EDSON

WASHINGTON — (NEA) — It will have to be shown whether President Kennedy's civil rights message and the civil rights legislation introduced by nine Republicans congressmen are mere window dressing—just for the record—or whether they mean business.

What the two programs indicate, however, is that if the liberals in both parties really want some civil rights action, they should form a coalition of their own to buck the conservatives.

The least such a coalition could do is cause a few convulsions in the House Rules Committee and force the Senate into another dandy filibuster, now that limitation of debate is dead for two years.

Both the Republicans and Americans for Democratic Action have been needing Kennedy ever since he took office for not sending Congress a comprehensive civil rights program.

Now he has met this challenge with an eight-point legislative program in the most sweeping civil rights message since President Lincoln's Emancipation Proclamation 100 years ago.

Three bills covering new recommendations in the fields of voting rights, integrated education and a four-year extension for the Civil Rights Commission, with broadened powers, will be introduced in Congress in the near future. CRC will go out of business Nov. 30 unless given a new lease on life. But this last is believed to have the best chance for congressional approval.

Kennedy's program is far broader than the Republicans' although their plan would be administratively tougher. The GOP calls for making Civil Rights Commission a permanent agency and setting up a new commission on equality of employment opportunity, giving it broad enforcement powers to replace the voluntary compliance now sought by the President's Committee on Equal Employment.

Finally, the GOP would empower the Census Bureau to make a national registration of voting statistics in every state by race, color and national origins. There is nothing like this in the Kennedy program and it is doubtful if this proposal would pass.

Most affirmative declaration in the President's message is probably the first sentence in his section on "public accommodations." He declares that "no act is more contrary to the spirit of our democracy and Constitution—or more rightly resented by a Negro citizen who seeks only equal treatment—than the barring of that citizen from restaurants, hotels, theaters, recreational areas and other public accommodations and facilities."

If the Kennedy administration continues its efforts to obtain equal treatment for all citizens in public places, this could probably have more impact than any legislation Congress will pass.

The U. S. Supreme Court now has before it several test cases on "sit-in" demonstrations. Decisions upholding equal rights in this area could become as important as the school integration order.

Just as significant as the President's proposals for new courses of action to enforce civil rights is his message inventory of some 20 moves he has made in this field the last two years.

Though the voting referee procedure authorized by the 1960 Civil Rights Act was used in only one Louisiana parish for the 1962 elections, thousands of new voters were registered for the first time in many states.

Sixty school districts were desegregated last year. Teacher

Letters To The Press

Contributions to this column are welcome. They should be brief and must be signed, but signatures will be withheld on request.

ANOTHER DOG LOVER

In reference to Edward Fordney's letter in Saturday's Press, we want them to know that we sympathize with them in the loss of their puppy.

We have had the same unhappy experience with the exception that they weren't certain they had picked up our dog. We were also surprised to learn that "the county has not provided the dog warden with a place to confine the dogs and that is why they are destroyed immediately." They also told us that "a dog is not picked up unless there is a specific complaint made."

We know the Dog Ordinance but — "why can't the county provide a place as in the past to at least keep the dog for three days?" We agree dogs should not be left to wander over the city biting children, dumping garbage, etc. But what about people like the Fordneys — shouldn't they have some protection too?

They may as well put up a sign saying "shoot every dog on sight who is loose and not wearing a collar" and perhaps put a bounty on them too — then the city will be freed of dogs and we, in that case, may not need even a dog warden.

Some people may say, why all the fuss, "it's only a dog" but not the people who have had to tell their boy or girl that their dog may have been gassed!

A "dog's life" isn't a dog's life anymore.

Mrs. Robert Roos

REPORT ON CONGRESS

During the past month Congress has been deluged with a flood of Presidential messages ranging from education and youth problems to agriculture, health, and senior citizens.

Next to the tax program, aid to education is considered most likely to produce controversy in this session. In a message stressing the "urgency" of federal aid, the President failed to set priorities and lumped a wide variety of good, bad, and indifferent proposals into one omnibus bill, apparently in the belief that various groups supporting individual proposals will unite behind the entire bill.

The package is estimated to cost an additional $1 billion per year for the next five years. The Administration contends that its program would involve federal participation on a temporary basis, phasing out after four or five years. Yet one is hard put to discover any federal program, once put in motion which has been terminated as soon as its purpose was accomplished and need for it passed. The Kennedy Administration seems to have dumped the entire question in the lap of Congress and attempted to wash its hands of the whole affair.

A second Presidential message was devoted to the nation's youth. This advances the notion that self-reliance and self-improvement by our youth are not nearly so important to develop as federal programs to assure young people that Uncle Sam will take care of them. Two new federal agencies and large increases in spending for existing ones were urged. The President renewed his plea for the creation of a Youth Conservation Corps.

New emphasis was placed on make-work projects for youth rather than career building programs. Also urged was establishment of a domestic peace corps that already has had a highly inauspicious inaugural.

Since last Fall this organization, without Congressional authorization, has conducted its nebulous functions in semi-secrecy. One project that has come to light—a $250,000 grant to a "Foundation" organized by New York Democrat Rep. Adam Clayton Powell. The Foundation plans to devote over $157,000 of this money to salaries. What the real purposes are behind the grant no one seems to know or wants to say.

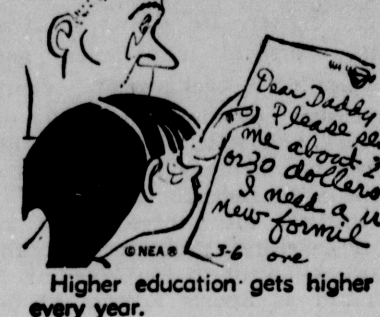

Currently Kennedy spokesmen are requesting a "temporary" extension of the national debt limit at the $308 billion level through June 30, 1963. Under present law, the limit is due to revert to $305 billion April 1 and $300 billion June 25. This, however, is only a holding action, for reports indicate that the administration will ask later this session that the

Effective Speakers Come From Toastmaster Ranks

The poised and effective speaker has achieved a goal shared by few. How did such a man become so successful in an art that commands the respect of the many?

Undoubtedly it all began when, one day, the man discovered that people would listen if he had something of consequence to say and said it in an interesting way. Not many persons seek to become orators. Their ambition is to be able to stand up in front of a group and make a committee report or describe the product they sell — and to do it with assurance and authority.

This is the primary goal of the Toastmasters Clubs, of which there are 3,300 around the world — including the Bay de Noc Toastmasters Club of Escanaba.

Always An Audience
Everyone is welcome (it's for men only, however) and there are no educational, racial or religious bars.

Sombody is always talking at a Toastmasters meeting — and there is always someone to listen. The audience is captive, friendly, critical, constructive and helpful. They are all there for the same purpose, to help themselves and each other to become better speakers.

The Bay de Noc Toastmasters Club was organized in March 1958, started with 30 members and now has 23. The club invites interested men to drop in for a visit, see how it works and, if they like the Toastmasters' way to improved speech they will be most welcome to join.

The Toastmasters meet the second and fourth Monday at Marco's where they have dinner and a program of participation that involves every member in one way or another.

Help Each Other
Every member, except those scheduled to make speeches, has an opportunity for extemporaneous speaking during the business portion of the meeting and through the regular program feature, "Table Topics," in which he speaks briefly on assigned topics of general interest. A toastmaster of the evening presides over the formal program, which includes four to six short speeches, all prepared in advance and based on principles set forth in the club's basic training manual.

The frequent opportunities to speak provide increased effectiveness and self-confidence.

Constructive criticism is a vital part of Toastmasters training. Following each program, members evaluate each speaker. A general clinic reviews the entire program. The members themselves do the evaluation and constructive criticism.

Saturday this week the Toastmasters area speech contest will be held, with speakers from the Bay de Noc, Vacationland at Iron Mountain and the Speakeasy Toastmasters Club of K. I. Sawyer Air Force Base participating. The ladies are invited for this one and persons interested in attending the dinner program are asked to phone reservations to Marco's restaurant.

Six Contestants

Representing the Bay de Noc club in the central Upper Peninsula area contest are Edwin Wuehle, assistant superintendent of the Escanaba Area Public Schools, and Fred Fisher of the Mead Corp.'s Escanaba Division. They won the club contest and the right to complete in the area meet.

Art Brien, Toastmaster Club area governor of the Bay de Noc Toastmasters was area winner in 1962; and Wuehle was area champion in 1959.

Contestants to come here for the meet on Saturday will be William J. McCallion and Robert H. Sturm of the Speakeasy Club; Gail Markell and Don Sericotti of the Vacationland Club of Iron Mountain.

Brien will be chairman of the evening. Edward Fordney will give invocation. Walter Peterson the welcome. Sidney Cadieu will be toastmaster and Roger Brown chief judge. At the close of the program the trophies will be presented to the winners by Area Governor Brien.

Judges Pick Winners

Judges of the contest are selected in equal number from each club, and the winners are chosen on the basis of voice, physical appearance, speech structure and language. Manner, speech value—ideas, logic and so forth — plus effectiveness are other points considered by the judges.

Speakers in the area contest will be limited to five to seven minutes (there's a penalty if they go under or overtime) and they will draw lots to decide when they will speak.

Potato Growers To Talk Change

The direction that Delta Area potato growers will take may get some new marks on its road map at a meeting of potato growers from the mid-Upper Peninsula at 8 p. m. Thursday in Cornell Township Hall.

The meeting is being sponsored by Michigan State University Extension Service and Joseph L. Heirman, Delta County Extension director, will preside and introduce three Lansing potato industry specialists.

They are: D. L. Clanahan, former MSU crops specialist, who will represent the Michigan Potato Council; Dr. Norman Thompson, MSU plant breeders, who will tell of his work of the past several years on potato varieties, and on potato uses; and Dr. R. W. Chase, MSU crops specialist, who will tell of new production practices, with emphasis on weed control and insect and disease control.

The meeting will be of unusual interest for U. P. potato growers because of the atmosphere or expectancy here in the spud business. The area's potato business has been in a state of change for many years, with sharp ups and downs of profits, but it may now be on the threshold of a new era of affluence and importance.

Total potato acreage in the U.P. has declined and this type of farming has become very highly specialized. White potatoes' place in the American diet has changed, the tubers have remained a high quality food and baking potatoes have acquired a new elegance and value.

The Upper Peninsula can produce fine Russet Burbank (baking) potatoes and Idaho potato growers, who have long specialized in this crop, have become interested in the Upper Peninsula as a possible strategic place to expand their production. It is closer to the big potato markets than they are and it has both soils and grower know-how to produce fine baking potatoes.

Idaho growers have shown interest in both purchase of bakers from local growers and in acquiring lands here for their own production.

Top Sales Goal

Enthusiasm is riding at a fever pitch among the gentlemen composing the six sales teams of the Senior Citizens Group of the Chamber of Commerce. This high powered sales force of the Centennial Button Committee have topped $1,100 in their crusade on Ludington St. to prevent beardless men, and women without bonnets or bustles from being prosecuted this Friday evening. The Centennial "Cops" will begin enforcing the beard and button regulations at 7 p. m.

Star salesman, John A. Lemmer and his able partner, Emil Christensen are setting the pace with a total of over $329 in sales. Close behind is the team of Warren Morrison and Lawrence Jacobs with $265 turned in up to the time of this report. The original goal of $1,000, set by the group last week has been surpassed and a new goal of $1,500 is easily within reach.

Escanaba's Senior Citizens are on the march in promotion of the Escanaba Centennial and they will be out in force to push the sale of Centennial stickers, buttons and other items. They have been successful in their beginning effort with sales already totaling more than $1,000. (Daily Press Photo)

Merit Scholarship
Tests Are Given

National Merit Scholarship qualifying tests were taken on Tuesday by 55 junior students at Escanaba Area High School and by 67 juniors at Holy Name High School.

The tests were administered to all students who wished to be considered for 1964 merit scholarships. The qualifying test is a three-hour examination of educational development. It is the first step in the ninth annual competition for four-year merit scholarships provided by the National Merit Scholarship Corp., and by sponsoring corporations, foundations, associations, unions, and individuals.

In 1962, 1041 merit scholarships were awarded and there are 3400 merit scholars attending 403 colleges in the current academic year.

Some 13,000 semifinalists, the highest scorers in each state, will be named early next fall. An additional 35,000 students, selected on a national basis, receive letters of commendation for their high performances. These students are considered for special awards made through the Merit Corp.

Each semifinalist will be asked to take a second examination. Those who repeat their high performance will become finalists in the merit program.

The scholarship stipends are based on financial need. The minimum award is $100 and the maximum is $1,500.

Why Constitution
Can't Be Voted
Well Piecemeal

By League of Women Voters
A new constitution for Michigan will be approved or rejected by the voters on Monday, April 1.

Our state constitution is important. It determines, for example, who can vote, how we are represented in the legislature, what powers the governor has. It is vital that each voter understand the proposed document and decide how to vote.

The following articles are presented by the League of Women Voters of Escanaba, the local chapter of the League of Women Voters of Michigan. The League is a national, nonpartisan organization. League members have studied the new constitution and believe it should be adopted. These articles will explain the new constitution in everyday language, and each article will be short and easy to read.

The new constitution was written by 144 delegates to the Michigan Constitutional Convention elected one from each state senatorial district and one from each state representative district. The convention worked mostly during the period from Oct. 3, 1961, to May 11, 1962. Final delegate action was taken in a one-day session Aug. 1, 1962, and the convention then went out of existence.

Even if the proposed constitution is rejected, the convention cannot take further action; its work is finished. Additional changes in the old constitution (or in the new if adopted) can be made only by the amendment process or by some future constitutional convention if one is voted by the people.

The convention began with study and discussion of existing and proposed constitutional provisions. Work was largely in 10 committees, each of which had responsibility for a certain section of the constitution. Since the convention consisted initially of 99 Republicans and 45 Democrats, each committee was composed of two-thirds Republicans and one-third Democrats.

Committee work culminated in the drafting of committee proposals. Beginning in January, these proposals were debated at length in the whole convention. Each part of the proposals were debated at length in the whole convention. Each part of the proposed constitution was considered three times before being finally adopted. Between considerations, the Committee on Style and Drafting worked to make the final document clear, consistent, logical, and well stated.

The convention had available to it the research of an able staff from Michigan's colleges and universities, preliminary work by a governor's commission, and the aid of private Michigan foundations and organizations. Few conventions have had such help.

The convention worked to keep the proven and historic; to strengthen the three branches of government, each in its proper sphere; to maintain and strengthen local government; to consider the best thinking of those experienced in government, of students of government, and of constitutional builders in other states. The convention was also guided by a knowledge of how the citizens of Michigan think their government should be organized and what it should do.

Michigan's proposed new constitution is several thousands of words shorter than the old, 19,000 as compared with 22,000. This was made possible, after careful study, by eliminating unnecessary words, legislative detail, and outmoded sections.

The organization has also been improved and simplified. In place of the present 17 articles, the new document has 12: 1. Declaration of Rights; 2. Elections; 3. General Government; 4. Legislative Branch; 5. Executive Branch; 6. Judicial Branch; 7. Local Government; 8. Education; 9. Finance and Taxation; 10. Property; 11. Public Officers and Employment; 12. Amendment and Revision.

The main reason why it is not practical to submit the new constitution to the electors piece by piece is that the old and new articles do not correspond exactly, either as to number or content.

Both new and old constitutions include a brief preamble and a schedule. The latter provides an orderly changeover from the old to the new.

are encountering difficulties, and asked for comment on suggestions the administration has lost its momentum.

Kennedy agreed there are such difficulties—that Congress has not yet acted on programs submitted, some difficulties in Europe have arisen because the military threat is less and other problems have come to the fore.

But, he said, in the summer of 1961 Reserves were being called up because of a possible collision with the Soviet Union over Berlin, and the present situation is certainly not so dangerous.

He said Cuba is still a problem, but not a military threat as it was. He said that if asked if this was "our winter of discontent," he would say no.

No Negotiations

Kennedy was asked about a note to the U.N. from Havana which purported to deal with a friendlier attitude between this nation and Cuba. He said he understands that though this may have been in the note in Cuba it was not included in the one finally delivered in New York. Many of the issues aren't negotiable anyway, he said.

And, he said, there is no indication that the Cuban government wants to discuss its differences with the United States.

Among other matters coming up: ROCKEFELLER—Kennedy was asked about a charge by New York Gov. Nelson Rockefeller that he had been appointing "segregationist" judges in the South.

The President said he felt that, on the whole, the men appointed by him and by former President Dwight D. Eisenhower had "done a remarkable job" on the civil rights question.

BUDGET—Asked about Republican talk of cutting government spending, Kennedy said there already had been deep cuts made in the budget presented to Congress. He suggested that if the Republicans wanted to make warlike speeches "it doesn't seem to me that we should be cutting our defense spending."

Won't Be Second

He also said the United States had made a commitment that it wasn't going to be second in space, or national security.

Russian spending for defense has been increased, he said. NUCLEAR—Kennedy said it is not the administration position that a treaty would be accepted that would allow underground testing by the Russians to go on indefinitely. He said moreover the Senate would not approve such a treaty.

There is a good way to go before any agreement can be reached with the Soviet Union—not only regarding the number of inspections, but the area in which the inspectors can operate, he went on.

CANADA—Asked about trade relations with Canada, Kennedy said there are regular consultations of the problems. He added, "I would hope that the United States and Canada, having been drawn together by nature, would be able to cooperate."

Detroit Center Canceled By IRS

WASHINGTON (AP)—Secretary of the Treasury Douglas Dillon announced Tuesday a reorganization of the Internal Revenue Service aimed at saving about $5 million a year in overhead and administrative costs.

In the latter part of this year, operations will be trimmed in 12 of the present 62 district offices. Starting next Jan. 1, four other district offices will be merged with counterparts in the same state. Field offices will be maintained in cities affected by the mergers.

As a result, Dillon said, IRS will be able to reduce its present nine regional offices to seven. The New York and Boston regions will consolidate in Boston. The Omaha and Chicago regions will be combined in Chicago.

As a further consequence, IRS will have automatic date processing service centers in seven instead of nine locations.

District offices which in the future will count on larger IRS installations nearby for expert and managerial help are those located at Aberdeen, S.D.; Fargo, N.D.; Helena, Mont.; Boise, Idaho; Cheyenne, Wyo.; Anchorage, Alaska; Reno, Nev.; Wilmington, Del.; Burlington, Vt.; Augusta, Maine; Portsmouth, N.H., and Providence, R.I.

As of the first of next year, the Syracuse district office will merge into the Buffalo district; Camden, N.J., into Newark; Kansas City into St. Louis; and Scranton, Pa., will be divided between Pittsburgh and Philadelphia.

With the reduced number of automatic data processing centers, installations once planned for the Detroit and New York areas will not be established.

Port Huron and Detroit had bid actively for the Michigan automatic processing center.

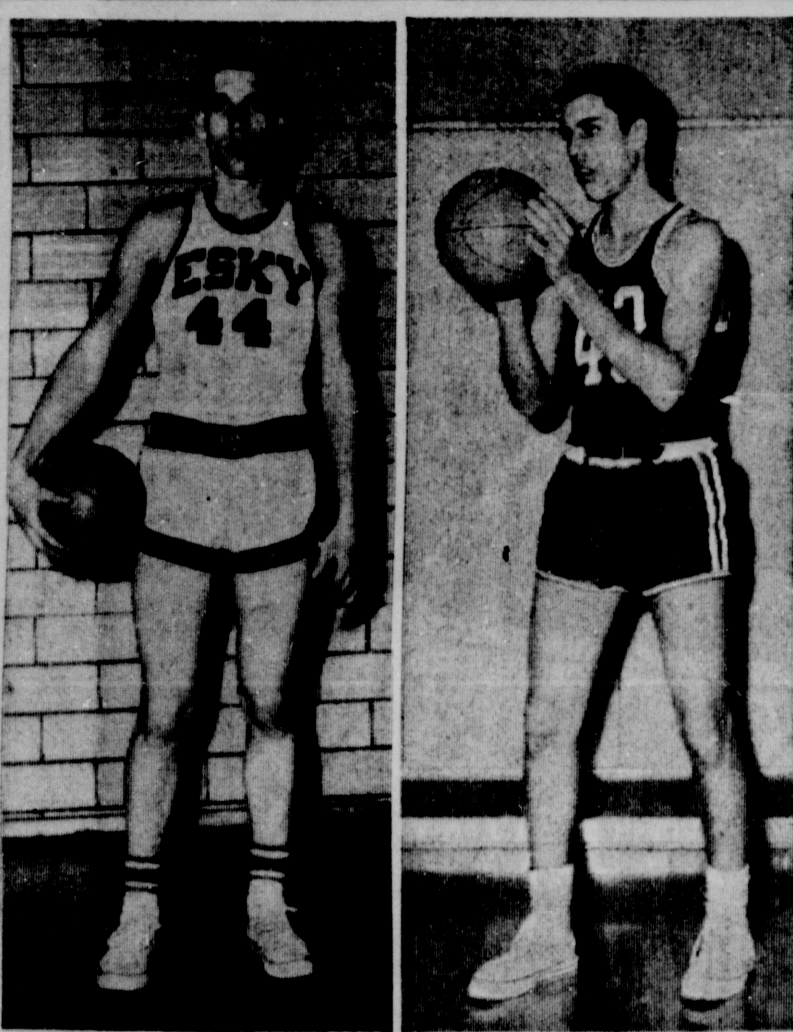

Port Huron offered to build office space for the center and give the structure to the government. A bond issue was approved by St. Clair County voters to finance the structure.

Labor Troubles Are Blamed For Economic Jitters

EDITOR'S NOTE: A new and important issue has cropped up in collective bargaining between labor and management in this year of troubled labor relations. Here, in the first of four special articles, is an analysis of some of the reasons both profits and wage boosts are harder to come by today.

By NORMAN WALKER
AP Labor Affairs Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — The latest spasm of labor strikes, terrible as it has been, is a symptom of something worse—a bad case of real and fancied economic jitters.

The symptoms are devastating enough. The recent 34-day East-Gulf Coast docks strike crippled the nation's foreign commerce and cost an estimated $800 million in lost business and wages. That is a dollar figure the federal government would be proud to claim as a budget surplus.

Newspaper strikes in New York and Cleveland have cut off whole cities from their daily papers for long periods, damaged community business and posed a question whether some publications can survive.

Walkout Threats Ahead

Big space-missile firms have recently barely escaped shutdowns. Walkout threats lie ahead in a number of key industries. The railroads, for example, face a labor crisis in the next few months and nobody seems to be doing much about it.

Too often strikes are chaotic, wasteful, brutal and inconsiderate of the public interest.

Too often, also, more attention is focused on cures for the strike symptoms than on cures for the basic economic disease that somehow goads labor-management protagonists into trying to kill off each other at the public's expense.

Behind the turbulent labor relations scene, management and labor are in a giant squeeze.

Each is puzzled and piqued because increases in profits and wages don't come so easy any more. The economic pie they cut up isn't growing as much as it once did. Each side is feeling a pinch.

Fierce new sales competition—at home as well as abroad—has made it even more compelling for employers to automate, streamline the production process, and cut costs. Raising prices has become increasingly difficult.

Worried Over Future

A resulting shortage of jobs in a constantly expanding work force leaves workers grimly intent on hanging on to the ones they have. They worriedly seek higher pay and job safeguards against the future. They sullenly complain

More Waterfowl Seen This Year

WASHINGTON (AP) — Observers spotted 15 per cent more waterfowl during the 1963 mid-winter survey in the Central Flyway then were counted a year earlier, the Interior Department announced Tuesday.

The department interpreted the increase as being an encouraging sign that the curbed 1962 hunting season served its purpose of preserving waterfowl breeding stock.

Ducks observed in the U.S. portion of the flyway were 23 per cent more numerous than in 1962, but still fell almost 18 per cent below the long-term average.

The number of mallards, the duck preferred by most Central Flyway hunters, was 14 per cent higher than in 1962, but 26 per cent below the average for the past eight years.

More geese were observed. The snow and blue geese counts were up 72 per cent over 1962 and 23 per cent over the long-term average. Increased numbers of white-fronted geese also were seen.

Quadruplets Born To Lima, O., Wife

LIMA, Ohio (AP)—"I did it. I got to see them born."

That was the jubilant cry of 26-year-old Barbara Axe, who Monday night gave birth to quadruplet daughters in St. Rita's Hospital.

"There's nothing to it," the proud father, Phil Axe, added.

The birth of the four infants, ranging in weight from 2 pounds 9½ ounces to 4 pounds, 2½ ounces came a week after she was told that she could expect quadruplets. At that time doctors said X-rays showed clearly that four babies would be born.

It was Mrs. Axe's wish to see the births. "Being a nurse, I would like to see them born," she had said last week. "I'm snooty."

She was given a local anesthetic and watched the entire delivery doctors said. After the births, she and her daughters were reported doing fine. The daughters were in incubators, they were born about one month prematurely.

The couple has three other children—Cathy, 3; Chuck 2, and Timmy, 1. The father is advertising manager for the Lima Citizen.

Water Detected On Planet Mars

PALESTINE, Tex. (AP)—The presence of water vapor and carbon dioxide on Mars was detected during the Stratosphere II balloon flight but life on the planet would be marginal at best, a preliminary report by scientists said today.

The preliminary summary of the findings of the tandem balloon carrying a huge telescope and sensing equipment this past weekend was released just prior to a news conference by researchers here.

"A very preliminary scientific analysis of the infrared tracings of Mars taken on the flight shows that the telescope did observe the infrared spectrum of the planet, that it recorded bands that can be attributed to water vapor and carbon dioxide, and that the amounts of these can be determined from the tracings," the report said.

"Because of these atmospheric conditions on Mars, life on the planet would be marginal at best. If, for example, the water content on Mars can be determined near the upper limit now estimated—if condensed, less than four cubic miles—some very primitive life forms become conceivable. If, however, the water is found to be much less, the possibility of life becomes much more remote, or else a life-supporting solvent other than water must be found," the report stated.

Dr. Martin Schwartzchild, Princeton University astronomer, headed a team of scientists which followed the balloon and recovered the huge telescope and recording instruments.

It was launched near here last Friday.

The balloon carried the 30-foot telescope to 77,000 feet—above 98 per cent of the earth's atmosphere—where the telescope was trained on Mars. Radio control enabled a ground crew to cut loose the telescope. It drifted to earth by parachute.

Telescope and instrument package landed on a farm 10 miles north of Pulaski, Tenn. A bulldozer was required to free the 13,000-pound rig from the mud.

Officials said the $2.5-million telescope was in good condition.

Draft Extension Bill Gets O.K.

WASHINGTON (AP)—A bill to extend the draft for four years won unanimous approval of the House Armed Services Committee today.

The measure, approved after two days of hearings would continue the Selective Service Act until July 1, 1967.

Other major provisions of the administration bill would:

—Extend for four years the law suspending restrictions on the active duty strength of the armed forces. Committee Chairman Carl Vinson, D-Ga., said if that law lapsed, the Army would have to cut down by 115,000 men, the Navy by 162,000 and the Air Force by 361,000.

—Continue the Dependents Assistance Act, under which men in the lower enlisted grades get increased quarters allowances because they have dependents.

—Extend the doctors draft and authority to grant special pay to physicians, dentists and veterinarians.

Stardom Comes Hard In Hollywood

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP)—Hollywood stardom has its price.

The price for Glenn Ford has been broken bones. Perhaps no other durable star of his stature—he has made more than 100 pictures—has had his ribs snapped more often in the service of the cinema.

"I love Western roles," he said, "but over the years I've had a couple of dozen bones broken in them. Somehow I never get hurt in anything except Westerns."

"A horse is the most dangerous animal there is."

Glenn could avoid equestrian perils by hiring a double. It is a point of pride with him that he never has.

"I like to do my own riding," he said. "I used to work as an exercise boy when I was 14 or 15 for Will Rogers. He sensed that I loved horses, and he taught me to ride by letting me warm up his polo ponies."

"I have no patience with actors who depend on doubles to perform dangerous feats. They cheat the audience," Ford said.

"I think if you can't do what the role calls for, then you ought to turn it down. If you're going to play the part of a man, then be a man."

Ford is an acknowledged master rider. The Rodeo Cowboys Association voted him the best horseman in pictures in 1959 and 1960, and he is prouder of this honor than any other he has ever won.

Glenn, who came to Santa Monica from Canada during his boyhood, started acting in high school. After some stage experience and 2½ years in the U.S. Marines during World War II, he rose rapidly in the film world.

In recent years he has been something of a perennial among the nation's 10 top-ranked stars at the box office. Unlike some stellar performers, Ford sees no danger in appearing in two or even three pictures a year.

"I don't believe you run the risk of overexposure if you have good material," he said. "If a good story comes along, I'm glad to make it."

YOU JUST CAN'T WIN

ST. PETERSBURG, Fla. (AP)—The parking meter had just run out of time, and the motorcycle cop was just starting to write a ticket, when the car owner spotted him from across the street. He ran across, right in the middle of the block.

"This your car?" the cop asked.

"Yes, yes," replied the car owner.

"I'll give you your choice," said the cop. "You want a parking ticket or a jaywalking ticket?"

Television Puts Viewers To Sleep

By CYNTHIA LOWRY

NEW YORK (AP) — Television probably puts more people to sleep every night than the nation's daily consumption of sleeping pills.

In a newly published study, "The People Look at Television," more than 40 per cent of the nationwide audiences sample interviewed reported that television makes them feel sleepy.

Sunk in a comfortable chair, in a warm, dimly lighted room, I do more than feel sleepy: I drop off suddenly into blissful sleep. It doesn't matter that the hour is early, that the program is one I've looked forward to seeing or that I'm interested in the show in program.

I have dropped off just when Perry Mason was about to expose a murderer, when the Cartwrights were galloping into town to stop a lynching, when Lucy was trapped in a man's room at the YMCA, when Adam Flint was chasing a miscreant over tenement rooftops, emptying his police special.

Prevention, while painful, is possible. When I want to make certain the sandman doesn't sandbag me, I sit stiffly in an upright side chair, turn on a reading lamp beside me and drink black coffee. That way, I can stay awake even through "Mr. Ed" and "Hawaiian Eye."

Macaroni And Cheese For Lent

Lenten Luncheon Dish—Macaroni and cheese baked in custard cups to be served with or without tomato sauce.

When I was a little girl, nothing seemed more elegant to me than when—invited to luncheon—I was served a timbale. The timbales I remember were custardy preparations holding lobster or chicken, and they were always made in individual drum-shaped molds.

When I came home after one of these soirees and complained that we never had these glamorous dishes at our table, my mother, a practical and energetic woman, didn't let the lack of timbale molds faze her. She used custard cups. But the lobster and chicken creations, rich with cream and egg yolks, and accompanied by an even richer mushroom sauce, were company fare. For everyday life, we were content to have our favorite macaroni and cheese baked in the little cups.

Perhaps your children would enjoy the latter, and if so you might like to try the following recipe. This rule does not produce a practical and energetic woman, but it makes a dish with robust cheese flavor that's fine for lunch.

Macaroni Cheese Timbales

1 tablespoon salt
3 quarts boiling water
1½ cups (6 ounces) elbow macaroni
2 large eggs (slightly beaten)
1½ cups milk
1 tablespoon soft butter or margarine
½ teaspoon salt
½ teaspoon pepper
1½ cups grated cheddar cheese
Add salt to rapidly boiling water; add macaroni gradually so water continues to boil. Cook, uncovered

PTA Committee Planning Meeting Held At School

POWERS-SPALDING—The PTA executive committee met at the home of Mrs. Harland Hanson on Monday evening, March 4, to discuss plans for the Powers-Spalding PTA meeting to be held Thursday, March 14. Mrs. Florence Dault, kindergarten teacher, Powers-Spalding school, will have a demonstration in phonics and reading readiness with some of her pupils. Much interest has been shown in the strides the children have been making in reading with the fine background they have received in this kindergarten program.

This year, for the first time, parents of the elementary children were given an opportunity to have conferences with the teachers and learn the problems which both the teacher and child have. Since the fall conference was so successful, it will be repeated Wednesday, March 13. School will not be in session for the elementary children on that day. Parents will be invited to come in and go over the child's report card with the teacher and have a ten minute conference period. Parents are urged to cooperate as well as they did in the fall.

A nominating committee was appointed at the executive meeting with Mrs. Walter Peterson as chairman to select a slate of officers for presentation for voting at the April meeting.

stirring occasionally until tender. Drain in colander. Beat together the eggs, milk, butter, salt pepper and cheese. Mix in cooked drained macaroni; turn into 6 (6 ounce size) buttered custard cups. Place cups in shallow pan of hot water; cover pan with foil. Bake in a moderate (350 degrees) oven until set, about 50 minutes. Unmold.

Members of the stained glass window committee met at 7:15 prior to the society meeting and discussed color and designs of windows suitable to the church. Mrs. Edward LeBeau volunteered to draw designs arranged in groups of three for a better idea of the final arrangement.

The nominating committee presented a slate of officers and Mrs. Joseph Grzybowski, Jr. was elected president. Other officers elected for the ensuing year are vice-president, Mrs. Leonard Veer, secretary, Mrs. James Ander-

Leaders are Mrs. Olson and Mrs. Arkens with assistance from Mrs. Paul Ault.

The Natural Look

A noted team of interior decorators point out that plants look more natural and add more true decorating sophistication to a room when displayed in their uncovered pots. It is "not correct," these decorators say, "to hide the clay pot in cute holders."

Candystripers Hold Meeting

POWERS-SPALDING—A meeting of the Candystripers was held at the Powers-Spalding High School on Monday afternoon, March 4. The girls are busy on a money-raising project to purchase uniforms. An afghan has been donated for which the girls are now selling tickets. The name of the winner will be announced at the April meeting of the Women's Auxiliary of Pinecrest.

Wednesday, March 13, the girls will go to Pinecrest for a tour of the hospital in preparation for their floor duty. Mrs. Wilfred Fleetwood, superintendent of nurses will be in charge of the tour, and will also be in charge of their training in patient feeding and other techniques which they must learn before they can begin their actual duties. There are 18 girls enrolled in the group and they are most enthusiastic about their volunteer work.

'Facets Of Fashion' Is Style Show Theme

Spring's newest and most beautiful styles will be revved by the Newcomer's Club at their annual fashion show to be held Sunday, March 31 at 7:30 p. m. in the Holy Name All Purpose Room.

The affair, sponsored in cooperation with Escanaba's leading clothing stores, has as its 1963 theme "Facets Of Fashion." The theme will follow through with the many aspects of this year's spring apparel. Preceding the show dessert will be served.

All tickets for the show must be purchased in advance as there will be no door sale. Tickets will go on sale in the very near future and announcement will be made when ticket selling begins.

Plans have been made to dedicate the entire show to Escanaba, in honor of its Centennial celebration. Along with all the modern contemporary styles, several Centennial ensembles will be featured.

Over 60 models will show designs from 12 local stores to make this event one of the most outstanding of the year and perhaps the most looked-forward to of spring affairs.

Mrs. Forrest Henslee, chairman, with her committee are finalizing the plans and anticipate this year's show to be one of the finest ever.

Committee chairmen include: Mrs. Wayne St. Pierre and Mrs. Lucien Malinowski, who are in charge of decorations; Mrs. John Valach, tickets; Mrs. Fred Hodgdon, wardrobe; and Miss Peggy Munson publicity and copy.

Franklin PTA Holds Business, Program Meeting

Franklin PTA met last night in Catherine Locke's first floor room which had been decorated in a St. Patrick's Day theme by the teachers who were the hostesses for March.

The bond issue was reviewed and individual members were urged to make their views known to the school board on this and other matters of public concern before action is taken.

Mrs. Robert Ryde gave the poison control information report and told the group that the AMA had made such a service available on a 24-hour basis from a center located in Chicago, known throughout the country as Whitehall 6-100. Local physicians have used this service twice recently.

Officers were elected for '63-'64. They are: Robert Ham, president; Robert Haack, first vice president; William J. Bisdee, second vice president; Mrs. Louis Dieckrich, treasurer; Mrs. Robert Ryde, secretary. The annual parent-teacher dinner will be held at the Dells Supper Club May 6, and all members and friends are invited.

One of the most informative programs of the year was presented by Dr. William Hemes of Escanaba and Dr. D. A. Jondrow of Gladstone. Slides were shown enabling the lay person to recognize common causes for concern about children's eyes. It was pointed out that defective vision is like a thief robbing a child of his potential. The fact that the Lions organization has secured much optometric care for the needy, was brought out during the discussion period that followed the lecture.

The next meeting will be held May 7 when the new officers will be installed.

GARTNER'S CHATTER

Over here in this corner, or somewhere on this page, with a maximum amount of regularity, we hope, will appear this ad.

And don't any of you folks start calling it a column. It's true we have tried our hand at any number of things, just as all Merchants do, judging beauty contests, canning pickles, serving on committees, boasting the charms of our town to people who live in other cities while we are on buying trips, filling our store with the newest and smartest merchandise... and we think it might be fun to chat with you about it.

You can expect this in the form of a column; however, we do not pretend to be a professional columnist, (alho we do have our days!)

We just simply want to drop a few observations now and then on what goes on in the fashion world, of course, if somebody makes headlines, we might contribute our two-cents worth regarding the matter, whatever it happens to be. But truthfully speaking... THIS IS AN AD... we have to pay for it... and we want the opportunity to talk to you every week or so.

For instance, no doubt you have read about and seen pictures of the suits which will be worn to the moon. It has to carry enough oxygen to last for ten days, must be insulated for temperatures from 215 F. in the daytime to 250 below at night. Must be thick enough to protect one from 20 feet of dust and have room enough to carry food inside for several days.

We have always had a romantic feeling about the man in the moon, and we don't think he is going to like this suit... let's face it it will make one look a dozen times your normal size. For the time being, we will stay right here on earth and be satisfied with the old adage "distance lends enchantment".

And speaking of suits, if you want real satisfaction and wearability, just try on one of the new spring knits. They are to be worn on this earth but are out of this world in looks! Smartly tailored, no sag, no stretch and never a wrinkle. All you have to do is try one on, we have a lovely collection and would like nothing better than have you see them today.

And now that you know THIS IS AN AD, we hope you will be watching for it and we will be waiting to serve you at GARTNER'S.

We also want to remind you that we have changed our store hours. Open at 9:30 a.m. instead of 9 closing as usual at 5:30 every day except Friday, when we close at 9 P.M.

IF IT'S NEW... WE HAVE IT!

Toothsome Tile Tattle

No matter how often the tiles in a bathroom are scrubbed, there often appears to be some residue. This usually is dirt accumulation where ceramic tiles join. This is easily cleaned and whitened by scrubbing with a well-lathered toothbrush. A little bleach may be added to the suds.

Perch Fishing On Bay de Noc Continues Fair

In the Gladstone area perch fishing remains fair on Little Bay de Noc, reports the Conservation Department. Successful anglers are using wigglers generally. Walleye fishing remains poor. It is expected, however, that fishing generally will pick up during the month of March.

In Marquette and Alger counties in general the fishing activity is slight. Good perch fishing was noted on Lake Independence and some fair perch success on 16 Mile, AuTrain and Big Shag lakes. Some good walleyes were taken the latter part of the month from Big Shag lake with minnows. Buck Bay was giving up some pike in 15 feet of water on the northwest side of the lake on tip ups and both live and dead minnows.

State Briefs

LANSING (AP) — Atty. Gen. Frank Kelley Tuesday urged passage of a bill regulating trading stamp companies, saying the state "desperately needs legislation in the field." Kelley appeared before a Senate State Affairs Committee hearing on the measure, proposed by his office. The attorney general said investigations by his office and various legislative committees highlight the intense and immediate need for legislation in this area.

LANSING (AP) — Atty. Gen. Frank Kelley ruled Tuesday the superintendent of public instruction can approve bond issues for community colleges operated by school districts but not for those operated by independent community college districts are not legally defined as "school districts" under the Constitution. His ruling will enable the Department of Public Instruction to pledge the state's full faith and credit behind general obligation bond issues for construction by such community colleges as Lansing, Port Huron and Highland Park, which are operated as extensions of school districts.

LANSING (AP) — Michigan's traffic death rate of 47 fatalities per one billion miles driven is below the national average of 57 deaths per billion miles, reports the state safety commission. Nearby Wisconsin and Indiana both are below Michigan with an average of 55 and 53 deaths per billion miles respectively, the commission reports.

Sea Isle City Still Has Traces Of 1962 Disaster

By CHARLES K. SERGIS

SEA ISLE CITY, N.J. (AP)—Sea Isle City today is serene under a soft blue sky, a clean pleasant town snuggled against five miles of the Atlantic shore.

Walking along Landis Avenue, a stranger might not know he was one city block from a mighty ocean.

Even if he walked over to the beach, he would get no inkling that one year ago Wednesday the place where he stood was a maelstrom of water and debris, a vast swamp of destroyed homes and shocked grieving people. The storm left 12 dead along the Jersey coast.

The beach was wider then, but a stranger wouldn't know that. It is smooth and unmarked now.

Boardwalk Gone

A four-block row of concrete cradles at the edge of the shore is the only discordant sight. The stanchions look out of place now because the boardwalk that rested on them was ripped off by the ocean that rose in wrath, March 6 and 7, 1962, against the New Jersey shore towns that draw their life from it.

A visitor today would walk onto a wide, 14-foot-high sand dune, built by the Army Corps of Engineers, to look at the Sea Isle City beach. He would be standing on the graves of 285 homes.

"Generally, in these storms, the first tide is it," said Horace J. Haffert, who has lived in Sea Isle City all his life.

Tuesday morning, March 6, the ocean lashed out. At high tide, waves slammed with sledgehammer thuds against the home-fronts.

At high tide that night, Haffert's parents and brother, flooded out of their homes, were in the living room of his three-floor guest house on the beach. The bulkhead of the next-door property collapsed under the furious waves. The ocean rolled over Haffert's bulkhead and smashed in the front door.

Upstairs in the living room, Haffert realized what was happening. "I told my wife to take the kids—we have six—and get out the back stairway. At that moment, just as I said it, the house cracked. The living room tilted up like this," he said, raising his palm to a 30-degree angle.

They all got out safely but the next morning, Wednesday, March 7, their home, lying askew on its foundations, began to break up. By night, it was a pile of rubble. The entire beach-front row of Sea Isle City looked like a flooded lumber yard.

Up and down the Jersey coast, the scene was repeated in town after town.

"This made the hurricane of 1944 look like an April shower," said Reynold Thomas, mayor of Little Harvey Cedars Borough on Long Beach Island.

In his community, which has only 126 year-round residents, but a few thousand in the summer, the storm's havoc is still starkly visible. Behind Long Beach Boulevard, the skeletons of houses swept hundreds of yards from the beach lurch in all directions.

One year after the storm inflicted these devastating losses on the shore, the best word to describe the attitudes in the hardest-hit towns is optimism. Officials are hard put to name a resident who has moved away. Most summer people are rebuilding their homes.

Teacher Is Power

Dear Ann: I want to be fair so I will start off by saying I've had many male teachers and most of them were gentlemen. But this male teacher I am writing about is a problem, not only to me but to other girls.

This teacher is the only one in the school who teaches a specialized subject and there's no way to avoid him. Bluntly, he can't seem to keep his hands off the girls. When I ask him a question he puts his head close to mine and whispers into my ear. Sometimes he adjusts my beads or flattens my collar or straightens my hairbow.

Yesterday he put his hands around my shoulders when he talked to me and I almost died of embarrassment. This was in front of the whole class.

He does the same thing to many girls so it isn't just me. So far as I know he never goes any further than just pawing, but it makes me uncomfortable and I don't know how to handle it. Can you help?—JUNIOR MISS

Dear Miss: More often than not, pawers, touchers, and nudgers are unaware they have the habit. The best cure is to gently but firmly remove the pawer's hands from your shoulders, beads, collar or what have you.

Make a point of what you are doing. He will become aware that this habit is annoying to you and can then set out to overcome it.

Dear Ann Landers: I'm considering marrying Linda whom I've been dating for two years. The only thing standing in the way is a problem which may have no significance but it's gnawing at me and raising doubts.

Linda frequently calls me Chuck which is not my name. Chuck is a fellow we are both acquainted with, but so far as I know she has never gone out with him and there is nothing between them.

Linda seems normal in every other way and can remember everybody else's name. Why can't she remember mine? Only yesterday she phoned her mother in my presence and told her that "Chuck would bring her home about 11:00 o'clock."

Can this mean that Linda has Chuck on her mind and that I'm a fool to consider her for a wife?—NOT CHUCK

Dear Not: People often mis-speak themselves.

Every mother alive has called one of her children by another child's name. In fact some mothers go through three or four names before they hit the right one. The next time Linda calls you Chuck—say, "Yes, Ophelia."

Dear Ann Landers: The letter from the grandfather who was disgusted because he received a birthday gift with a card which said, "With love from Bonnie, Don, Mac, Sue, Hal, Mary, Gerry, Debbie—etc." was wonderful.

I'm a grandfather, too, and like the man who wrote, I select gifts for my family with loving care. Yet, year after year, my children send me things which show so little thought I'd prefer no gift at all.

For Christmas my daughter sent me a leather belt which is six inches too small. My son sent a heavy wool shirt, the kind men in Michigan wear for hunting. I live in Miami and have no use for such a shirt. Another daughter sent cuff links. I don't own one shirt with French cuffs.

My 11-year-old grandson sent me a cake of soap, which was the only gift I could use. Strangely enough, his mother wrote and apologized for the gift, thinking I might be offended.

Please tell people, Ann, that sending a gift just to take care of an obligation is no compliment. And the receiver can always tell.

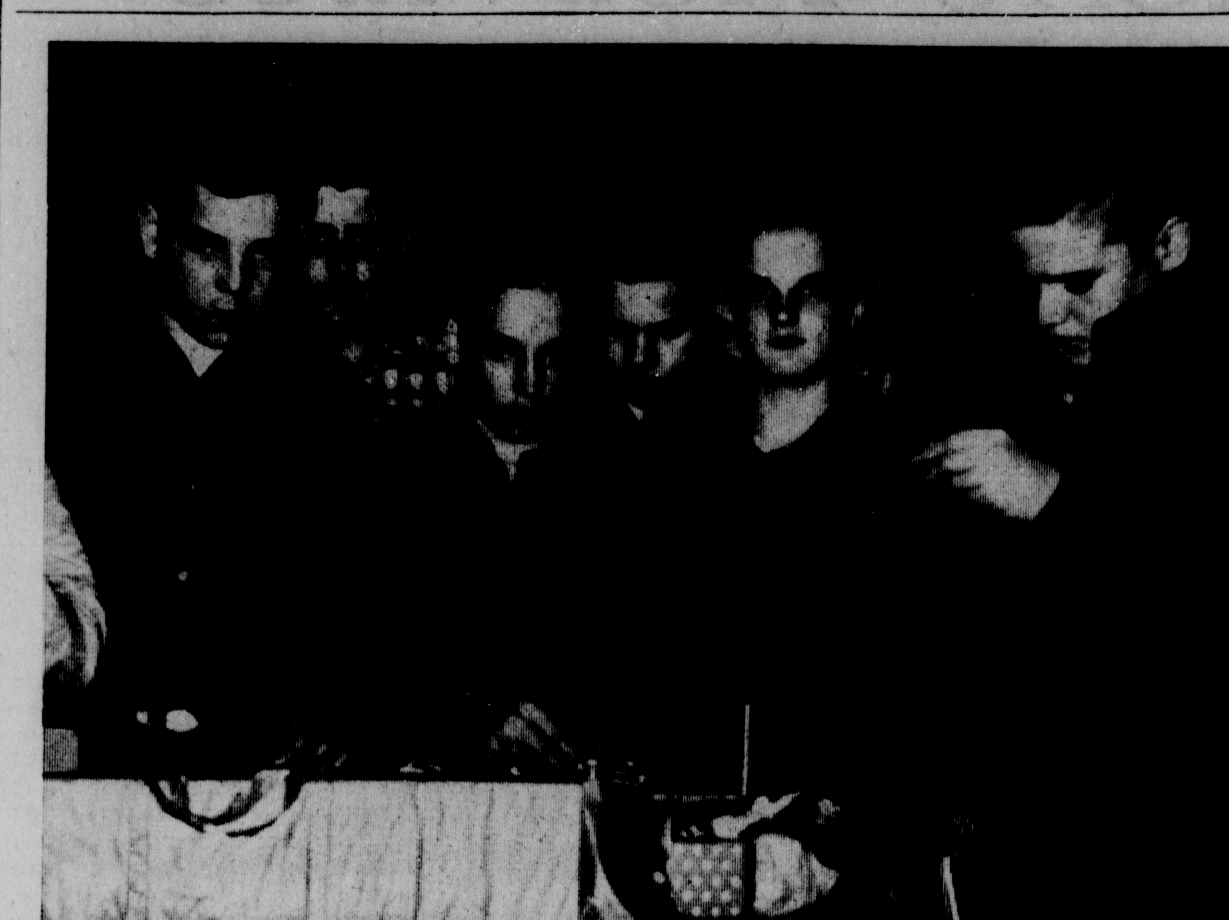

—ALSO COMPLAINING

Dear Ann: You've made the point, Gramps. I can add nothing but my thanks for writing.

To learn the difference between a marriage that "settles down" and one that "gets dull," send for ANN LANDERS' booklet, "What To Expect From Marriage," enclosing with your request 20c in coin and a long, self-addressed, stamped envelope.

Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of this newspaper enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

53 Of 85 Days Had Below Zero Mark

Though Inland Lime and Stone Co., has recorded more cold days and lower temperatures than in other years, harbor ice measures only 28 inches so far, probably due to snow conditions, John W. Moffat, vice president notes. In other winters ice has been as much as 30 inches or more.

The plant near Huntspur has recorded below zero temperatures on 53 of the past 85 days with the coldest a minus 38 degrees the morning of Feb. 26. On seven of the 53 days the temperature was minus 30 or lower. Three of the first five days in March have also been below zero.

December had 10 below zero days beginning Dec. 11, when the first sub-zero temperature was recorded. January had 20 and February 20 days with below zero temperatures.

The mean temperature for February was 1.8 degrees compared to 14.1 a year ago and that for January was 3.9, as compared to 14.5 a year ago in January. With a warmer sun, temperatures now vary greatly. For instance, Tuesday a minus 17 was recorded at 8 a. m., and by 9 a. m., this was up to a plus 16.

As most of the work at the limestone facility is indoors, and drilling done from heated equipment, the extreme cold has not affected operations to any appreciable extent, Moffat said. The firm for a number of years has used block heaters for equipment kept outdoors.

Cage Tourney Starts March 18

A single elimination tournament starts March 18 and continues on March 20-25 in the city basketball league. The schedule will be announced next week.

In play Monday night the Country Cagers won 77-56 over Gulliver and Boyd's won 57-50 over Jaycees. Feb. 27, the Country Cagers beat Boyd's 57-48 and Manistique Lumber won 60-47 over Gulliver.

High scorers Monday night were Warren Groleau, 28, Don Pomeroy, 14 and Dennis Pomeroy, 13 for Nahma; George Smith, 18, and Marv Curran, 14 for Gulliver. For the Jaycees, St. John with 33 and Hinkson with 12 were high and for Jaycees, Bernier with 20, and Turan and Dragos with 10 each.

Defending Class A Champ Sidelined In First Start

By The Associated Press

There'll be at least one new state basketball champion when the finals are played at East Lansing in about two and one-half weeks.

Saginaw, defending titlist in Class A, lost a 60-59 decision to Saginaw Arthur Hill in the district tourney at Bay City Central as the annual state tournament began its three-week grind Tuesday night. Tim Shoskey's free throw with 14 seconds remaining ended the season for Saginaw.

The three other champions also saw action during the first night of play. All won with ease.

Class B king River Rouge—the only champion figured to repeat—scored the night's most lopsided victory when it trounced Dearborn-Haston 83-20. River Rouge held an unbelievable 70-8 lead after three quarters.

Muskegon Christian, defending Class C champion, moved past Montague 72-65, and Flint St. Matthew started the defense of its Class D crown with a 67-58 triumph over Goodrich.

In Class A games involving teams ranked high in the Associated Press' final prep basketball poll, Grosse Pointe, No. 3, downed East Detroit 66-46, Ferndale, No. 6, bounced Berkley 67-43; Lansing Sexton, No. 7, eliminated Lansing Everett 60-45, and Detroit Southwestern, No. 8, trounced Detroit Cody 85-43.

Hudsonville, ninth-ranked in Class B, was forced into overtime before downing Zeeland 64-59. Hudsonville scored 22 points from the free throw line to only seven for Zeeland.

In the only game involving two teams ranked in the final AP poll, Capac, No. 1 in Class C trounced Port Huron St. Stephen 80-48. St. Stephen had been ranked tenth, along with Houghton. Capac made its first 21 free throws and ended up hitting 32 of 38.

Charlotte, fifth-ranked in Class B, fell to Battle Creek Pennfield 53-50 in the night's biggest upset. The loss was the second of the season for Charlotte.

None of the other top-ranked clubs in Class B were in action.

In other Class B contests Jim Ogilvie scored 31 points to pace

Manistee's 82-66 victory over Cadillac. Gary Crowley had 32 points but Jackson St. John still bowed to Stockbridge, 60-58; guards Keith Diamond counted 29 points as Coloma bounced South Haven 64-46, and Steve Kutas hit a dozen field goals from the outside without a miss as Lansing Resurrection edged Mason 70-65.

In a Class C contest at Grayling, Houghton Lake held a five point lead with just 50 seconds to St. Gertrude, 54-33, while Cheboygan C. C. was knocking off Onaway 55-47.

Kalamazoo Christian, No. 8, scored a 68-48 verdict over city rival Kalamazoo St. Augustine in another Class C tussle.

Some fans felt that the start of the tournaments was like the start of a new basketball season.

One example was Charlevoix's 63-57 victory in Class C over Boyne City. Charlevoix had dropped two games to Boyne City during the regular season.

Another turnout took place at the St. Joseph district where Eau Claire dropped Benton Harbor St. John 59-57 after losing by 20 points to the same team earlier in the season.

Four of the state's top-rated clubs were in action in Class D districts.

Champion, No. 2, defeated Channing 71-43; Brimley, No. 5, ousted Cedarville 67-48; Covert, No. 6, beat Saugatuck 57-44, and Kingston, No. 10, eliminated Peck 44-30.

8:30—Hermansville vs. Alpha

POWERS-SPALDING — Coach Gordy LeDuc's Powers-Spalding Tigers opened action in the Class D district basketball tournament here Tuesday night with a 57-44 victory over Amasa.

The defending district champs were paced by Paul Behrend, a 5-10 junior. Turning in the best performance of his career, Behrend scored nine field goals and four free throws for 22 points to take individual scoring honors for the night.

Mike Nelson, 6-foot sophomore, chipped in 13 points and teamed with Gary Gagne to give the Tigers a big edge in rebounds, 42 to 29.

The Tigers took a slim 10-8 lead in the first period and padded it to 25-17 at halftime. Entering the fourth period the Tigers led 40-30, but Amasa cut its deficit in half at 48-43 with two minutes remaining in the game.

Powers-Spalding dominated the action down the stretch, outscoring the Mastodons 7-1 on free throws by Richard Roshak, Jim O'Neil and Dan Wells and field goals by Nelson and Behrend. Amasa's only point in the final two minutes was a free throw by Ford Bennett.

Delbert Johnson led Amasa in the scoring department with 15 points and Jerry Hautala contributed 12.

Action resumes tonight with two contests. Felch meets Carney in the opener at 7 and the Hermansville Redskins tackle Alpha in the nightcap at 8:30.

Last night's victory moves the Tigers into a semi-final game against Vulcan Friday night.

Rayl Is Repeater On All-Big Ten

CHICAGO (AP) — Jimmy Rayl of Indiana is the only repeater and Ohio State's Gary Bradds the only unanimous choice on the 1963 All-Big Ten basketball team named Wednesday by the Associated Press.

Five players from as many schools make the No. 1 unit highly representative.

AP sports writers in the area named scoring champion Bradds first choice on every ballot. The 6-foot-8-inch junior, who is averaging nearly 32 points a game, became the Big Ten's outstanding player after spending his sophomore season in the shadows of the great Jerry Lucas.

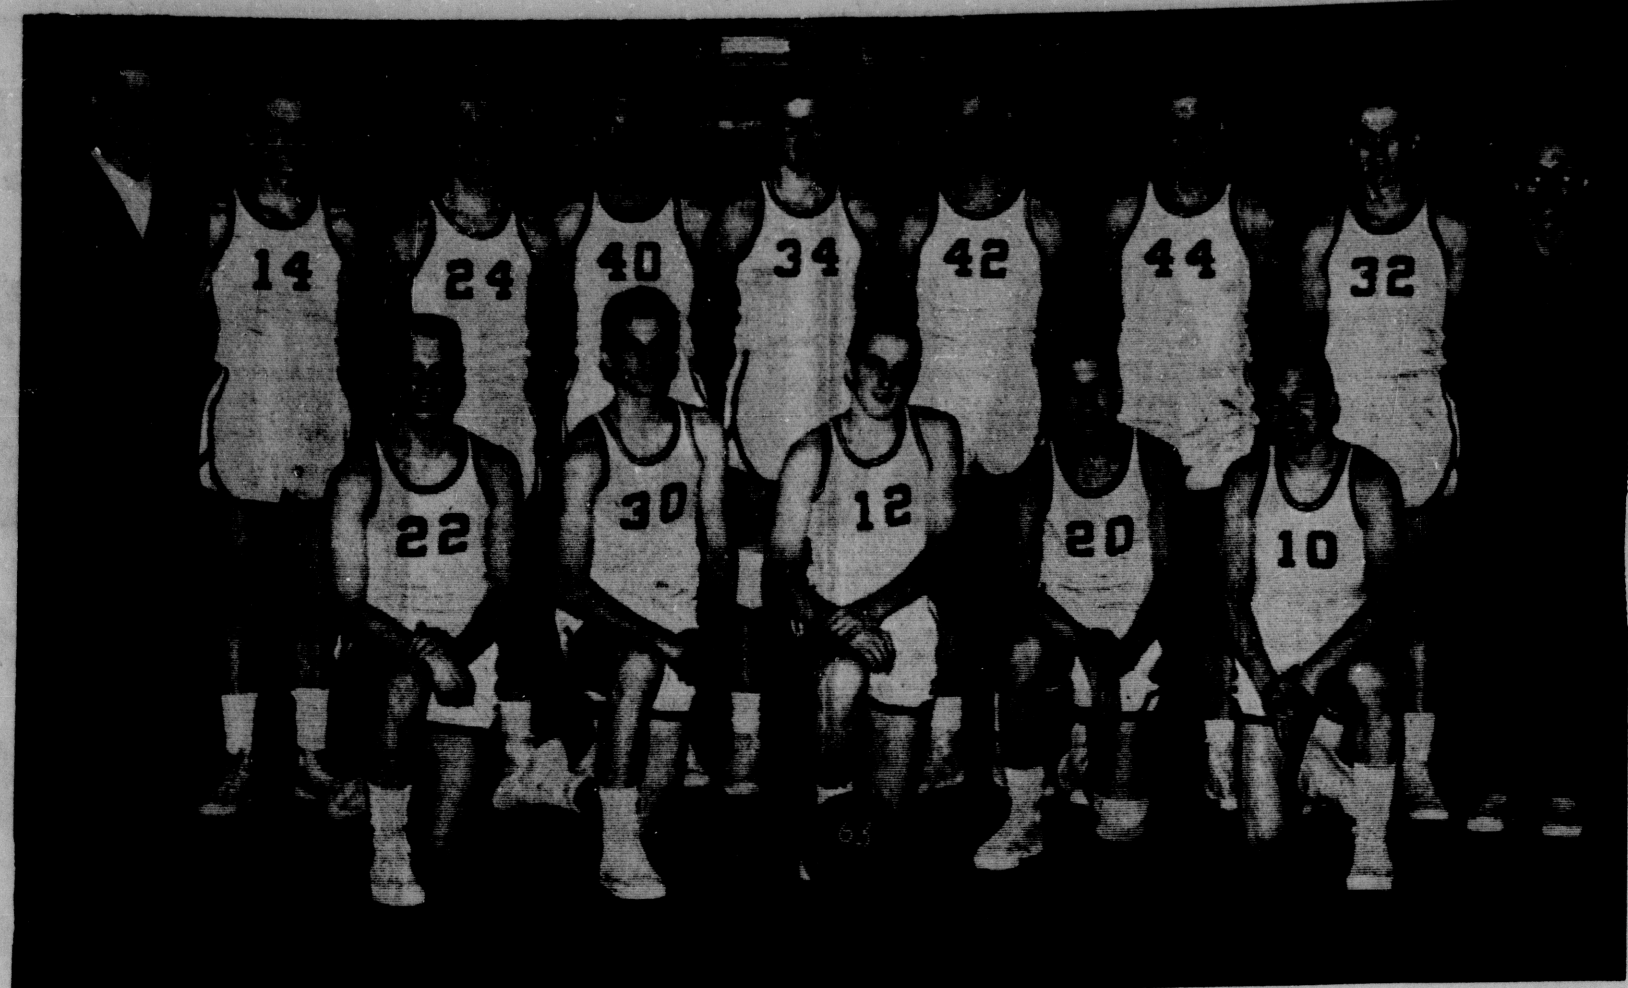

Along with Rayl, second in the scoring race and holder of the conference's single game record of 56 points, and Bradds, who led the Buckeyes to at least a share of the title, are three other top marksmen. They are clutch-shooting Dave Downey, greatest scorer in Illinois history; steady Mel Garland, a standout on Purdue's last-place team, and Bill Buntin, Michigan sophomore sensation who made a run for scoring honors and topped the conference in rebounds.

Downey, who with Rayl are the only seniors on the No. 1 line-up, advanced from the 1962 second team. Garland, a junior, came up from the third.

Scoring punch also is heavy on the second team of Rich Falk, Northwestern; Bill Small, Illinois; Ken Siebel, Wisconsin; Tom Bolyard, Indiana, and Eric Magdanz, Minnesota.

The third team includes Jack Brens, Wisconsin; Dick Reasbeck, Ohio State; Terry Kunze, Minnesota; Dave Reach, Iowa, and Pete Gent, Michigan State.

Six Berths Remain In College Tourney

By The Associated Press
There are six pieces left in college basketball's post-season pie with 12 teams still looking for a cut.

Six conference berths remain open in NCAA tournament with two clubs in each league in the running for the coast-to-coast extravaganza. Already set for the national tourney are nine conference entries and the 10 at-large selections.

In Tuesday night's developments Yale grabbed a share of the Ivy League lead with an 80-76 overtime victory at Harvard, Santa Clara went ahead in the West Coast Athletic Conference by winning at home against University of Pacific 79-62, and East Tennessee was knocked out of the Ohio Valley scramble, losing at Middle Tennessee 59-57.

Here is the picture of the six races:
IVY LEAGUE—Yale finished at 11-3, matching Princeton, and the two teams will play off at Fordham's gym in New York Friday night for the NCAA spot.

WCAC—Santa Clara now is 9-2 and San Francisco 8-2, with these two having a showdown Saturday night at San Francisco. Prior to taking on Santa Clara, the Dons have a home game tonight with San Jose State.

OHIO VALLEY—With East Tennessee out of it, Morehead and Tennessee Tech are left alone at the top with 8-4 records. The co-champions will have a playoff, the conference's fourth in the past eight years.

BIG TEN—Ohio State in the lead at 11-2 with Illinois next at 10-3. The Buckeyes finish at Indiana and the Illini entertain Iowa, both games Saturday afternoon.

BIG EIGHT—Kansas State and Colorado will settle this one Saturday night on K-State's floor. The Wildcats now are 11-2 and the Buffaloes are 10-3, but if Colorado wins the showdown it will get the NCAA trip since it beat K-State in their other regular season game.

BIG SIX—Stanford has clinched a tie at 7-3 but UCLA, 5-5, has a mathematical chance. They'll meet Friday night at UCLA, then the UCLAs are at home against California Saturday while Stanford closes at Southern California.

Providence, 10th ranked nationally and headed for the National Invitation Tournament, romped to its 11th straight victory, winning at Fairfield 85-65.

Baylor snapped Texas' winning string at 14 games and ruined the Longhorns' drive for a perfect Southwest Conference record in a 55-48 upset at Waco. Texas finished with a 13-1 conference mark.

In other Tuesday night games—Rice 73, Texas A&M 70; Arkansas 104, Texas Christian 94; Southern Methodist 88, Texas Tech 87; Oklahoma 70, Oklahoma State 65; Syracuse 100, Colgate 78; Pepperdine 73, Loyola of Los Angeles 55.

Pender Given Title Support

NEW YORK (AP)—Paul Pender's middleweight empire has been expanded—by court order.

The Appellate Division of the New York State Supreme Court nullified Tuesday the State Athletic Commission's action in stripping Pender of championship recognition last November.

So now the ex-fireman is middleweight titleholder in New York and in his home state of Massachusetts. Elsewhere throughout the world, Dick Tiger of Nigeria is listed as champion.

In November, the state commission stripped Pender of recognition for failure to defend his title within the prescribed six-month period and awarded its recognition to Tiger, then the World Boxing Association champion. Other boxing groups followed New York's lead, leaving Pender with only Massachusetts for a kingdom.

Pender went to court to get back recognition in New York and Tuesday's action resulted.

Drysdale Figures To Have Another Outstanding Year

By The Associated Press

Don Drysdale doesn't figure to improve his pitching performance of last season in 1963, but no one will be surprised if the 26-year-old Los Angeles Dodgers' right-hander does as well.

The big fast-baller with the blistering crossfire delivery just about carried the Dodgers' hurling slack last year after left-hander Sandy Koufax was sidelined with a finger ailment in mid-July. It was no fault of his that Los Angeles lost the National League pennant in a playoff with San Francisco.

The 6-foot-6, 205-pound Californian won 25 games, most in the majors, and led both leagues in strikeouts with 232.

He made his first spring training appearance in an intrasquad game at Vero Beach, Fla., Tuesday and looked to be in mid-season form.

Pitching for the Leo Durochers against the Charlie Dressens, Drysdale worked the first three innings and allowed no runs and two hits.

Elsewhere around the spring training camps: Ernie Broglio will be the St. Louis Cardinals' starting pitcher in their first exhibition game against the New York Mets Saturday. Veteran relief pitcher Ray Moore of the Minnesota Twins was struck in the back by a line drive during batting practice but was not seriously hurt.

Reliever Elroy Face of the Pittsburgh Pirates worked 15 minutes of batting practice and appeared fully recovered from the ankle injury that sidelines him Monday.

Pitcher Bob Bolin reported to the San Francisco Giants' camp after six months in the Army but first baseman Orlando Cepeda and pitcher Juan Marichal remained holdouts. Rookie Jesse Gonder hit a grand-slam homer in the Cincinnati Reds' first intrasquad game.

Hank Aaron checked in at the Milwaukee Braves' camp and hit two of the first five serves to him over the left field wall. Infielder Elio Chacon informed the New York Mets he would report to camp Wednesday but outfielder Frank Thomas remained a hold-out at his home.

Outfielder Manny Jimenez reported to the Kansas City A's camp just in time to avoid a $50-a-day fine for any further tardiness. Pitcher Earl Wilson of the Boston Red Sox was hit on the right shoulder with a line drive, and although the injury appeared not to be serious, he was taken to a hospital for X-rays.

Equal Time Rule On Political Talks May Be Suspected

WASHINGTON (AP) — Rep. Oren Harris, D-Ark., chairman of the House Commerce Committee, has announced that he would be willing to consider suspending broadcasting's equal time rule from races for president, vice president, governor and U.S. senators.

But Harris told CBS President Frank Stanton to "take a little hint" and not to press now for the complete repeal of the equal time rule.

The subcommittee held a hearing Monday on a proposal to suspend the equal time provisions during 1964 presidential campaigns. This was done in 1960 and resulted in the television debates between candidates John F. Kennedy and Richard M. Nixon.

Unless the law is suspended, broadcasters would be compelled to give equal time to any candidate who demanded it, no matter how obscure his party might be.

Delta Planters Offered Trees

Orders for three planting stock are being accepted by the Delta Soil Conservation District at the Extension Service office in the Delta County Building.

Trees available are 3 year old red pine seedlings and four year old white spruce transplants. The trees are grown at the Michigan Department of Conservation Wyman Nursery at Manistique and will be brought to the Delta District for distribution.

"Tree planting for reforestation and erosion control is still a needed soil and water conservation practice in the Delta District," says Irwin Ten Haken of the Soil Conservation Service. "Odd areas, fields too steep, stony, or sandy for cultivation make good planting sites and will someday produce a 'wood crop' if planted now."

"Generally speaking, the red pine should be planted on the sandy soils with the better soils reserved for white spruce," said Ten Haken. Soils information is available at the SCS office in the Federal Building in Escanaba to aid the landowners in deciding what trees are best suited to the soil.

Cost-sharing is available from the Agricultural Conservation Program and can assist in the planting program. Information on this may be obtained from this office also located in the Federal Building.

The deadline on orders is March 30. Delta County planted a lot of trees in 1962, reversing a state trend downward in tree planting, but orders to date here have been slow.

The trees offered are only for forest plantations. Persons interested in Christmas tree stock, shrubs and other flora can obtain price lists from the Soil Conservation Service and Extension office.
